In 1960, Leith moved to London to attend the Cordon Bleu Cookery School and then began a business supplying high-quality business lunches. This grew to become Leith's Good Food, a party and event caterer. In 1969, she opened Leith's, her Michelin-starred restaurant in Notting Hill, eventually selling it in 1995.

Prue Leith - Wikipedia

"My daughter loves her Leiths lessons – a total change from academic time at school. It does require effort on her part but fits in with an already busy schedule. She is gaining a set of skills which will last for life – whatever she does in the future, cooking and a love of good food will play a major part.
