Indeed, Naked City is a sobering update of Jacobs' legendary 1961 book, The Death and Life of Great American Cities. Like Jacobs, Zukin looks at what gives neighborhoods a sense of place, but argues that over time, the emphasis on neighborhood distinctiveness has become a tool of economic elites to drive up real estate values and effectively force out the neighborhood "characters" that Jacobs so evocatively idealized.

Naked City: The Death and Life of Authentic Urban Places ...

The subtitle of Sharon Zukin ' s book, " The Death and Life of Authentic Urban Places, " puts her work directly in line with Jane Jacobs ' s work, echoing the title of Jacobs ' s most famous book. Zukin isn ' t concerned as much about keeping neighborhoods and towns alive as making them feel alive--making them remain true to their soul.

The Naked City (1948) - IMDb

The Naked City (aka Naked City) is a 1948 American film noir directed by Jules Dassin. Based on a story by Malvin Wald, the film depicts the police investigation that follows the murder of a young model, incorporating heavy elements of police procedure. A veteran cop is placed in charge of the case and he sets about, with the help of other beat cops and detectives, to find the girl's killer.

The Naked City - Wikipedia

Naked City is a police drama series from Screen Gems which was broadcast from 1958 to 1959 and from 1960 to 1963 on the ABC television network. It was inspired by the 1948 motion picture The Naked City and mimics its dramatic "semi-documentary" format. As in the film, each episode concluded with a narrator intoning the iconic line: "There are eight million stories in the naked city."
