‘ Your Hand in My Hand ’ does not have a narrative as such, but is a book that follows two mice as they walk along hand in hand. They could be mother and child, siblings, or even Dad. Who they represent will mean different things to different people and it is here that the book works best.

“ Exceptional. ” —Booklist (starred review) “ Heartfelt...Thoughtful and effective. ” —The Horn Book “ Engle ' s lyrical poetry emotionally conveys the reality of being a greatly gifted, passionate, and deeply ambitious young man in a turbulent time. ” —BCCB From acclaimed author Margarita Engle comes a gorgeous novel in verse about Rubén Darío, the Nicaraguan poet and folk hero who initiated the literary movement of Modernismo. As a little boy, Rubén Darío loved to listen to his great uncle, a man who told tall tales in a booming, larger-than-life voice. Rubén quickly learned the magic of storytelling, and discovered the rapture and beauty of verse. A restless and romantic soul, Rubén traveled across Central and South America seeking adventure and connection. As he discovered new places and new loves, he wrote poems to express his wild storm of feelings. But the traditional forms felt too restrictive. He began to improvise his own poetic forms so he could capture the entire world in his words. At the age of twenty-one, he published his first book Azul, which heralded a vibrant new literary movement called Modernismo that blended poetry and prose into something magical. In gorgeous poems of her own, Margarita Engle tells the story of this passionate young man who revolutionized world literature.

2018 Christian Book Award finalist (Devotion and Gift category) He Holds My Hand is a page-per-day 365-day devotional. Based on Scripture, this devotional is written as if God the Father is speaking His words of comfort and protection directly over you. When Carol Kent's son was sentenced to life in prison without parole, Carol was consumed with grief, sadness, and despair. She was distraught wondering why God permitted this to happen. She had prayed for her son since he was a small child. He had been raised with biblical principles and daily prayer. As Carol tried to make sense of everything, she couldn't help asking, Where's God when it hurts so much? In the middle of her sorrow, Carol turned to the place where she had always gone for comfort--the Bible. She was desperate to hear God's voice. She soon discovered that the best way for her to "listen" to His voice was to meditate on Scripture and then write out what she believed He was saying. She wrote it as if it was His prayer over her life, and it comforted her. It was as if He took her by the hand, as a father would guide a child, and He gently led her in the direction of unconditional love, renewed hope, and fresh faith. Know without a doubt that God is with you and stands ready to protect and guide you. He holds your hand, and He won't let go. Listen to God's voice and put your hand in His. He is your Comforter, your Healer, your Teacher, and your Joy. Remember He holds your hand, and He won't let go.

Each of these poems is a little bridge— a link from here to here— from the here that isn't, quite, to the here that truly is. We spend our lives adjacent to grace, not always realizing it, and sometimes a little stepping stool is useful to provide a boost, so we can peek over the wall that's keeping us from seeing what's really happening. Sustaining this view means greeting life on new terms, embracing a shift in perspective, and that's what these pieces hope to spark. . Hafiz is the ringleader in this collection—the playful voice of my own heart. There's a whole crew of friends in here. We scamper across dew-flecked lawns at dawn, assault the meaning of existence, dare the stars to wink at us, and drive off the edge of the road in a flying convertible. We're just having fun as we receive, little by little, the joyful inklings of eternity's promise.

Why write this book now? Well, I ' ll tell you. I ' ve been thinking about writing this book for a very long time. When the thought of this book would become fresh in my mind, I would put it off. I graduated from high school on May 18, 1955. I often wondered about my classmates—where they were and what they were doing. Some of my classmates I had not seen since that day years ago. One particular day, September 27, 2004 to be exact, I was thinking about a female classmate of mine named Jeanne. I had not seen her since the day we graduated from high school. I called Roger Polk, who was also a classmate of mine and now resides in Los Angeles , California , to inquire about Jeanne. While making the call to Roger, I was in the process of cutting my grass. Roger and I talked for a while and he assured me he would try to locate Jeanne. During the conversation, I told Roger, once he located her number, to call me and put her number on my answering machine, because with the lawn mower going, I would not be able to hear the phone. We hung up and I went back outside to cut the grass. When I got to the third post of my backyard, the phone rang so I went back inside, answered the phone, and said “ hello. ” The other end said, “ Hello, Johnny Springer. ” I answered the phone and said “ hello ” again and asked, “ Who ' s speaking please? ” And the voice said Jeanne. Quite naturally, I thought Roger had already spoken to her, and had given her my number and told her to call me. So about three to four minutes into the conversation, I asked her if she talked to Roger, and she used one word that surprised me, and that word was no. I immediately asked her if she meant she had not spoken to Roger. She replied yes, and that she had not spoken to him in a long time. I said, “ You have got to be kidding me. ” She said, “ No, Johnny, I am serious. ” I told her that about forty-five minutes earlier, I had called Los Angeles and asked Roger if he could find your number and ask you to get in touch with me. So, we continued to talk about her job, when she retired, and what she had been doing since then. She replied that she had experience in writing books. So I mentioned that I was interested in writing a book but didn't know how to go about it. She said she probably would be able to help me, and that is why I stopped putting this book off and made the decision that day to write this book. In my heart, I believe that God inspired her to call me forty-five minutes after I called Roger to inquire about her. I know that this is going to be a helpful book for the saved and the unsaved. This is one place where we all must play by the same rules. He is a fair and a just God and he changes not. Romans 2:11 - "For there is no respect of persons with God" Hebrews 13:8 - "Jesus Christ the same yesterday and today and forever"
